Beyond Allyship:
Advocating for Latinx Heritage

Thursday, December 10, 2020

1:00 PST / 2:00 MST / 3:00 CST / 4:00 EST

Advocating for allyship and diversity is necessary, but not sufficient. What does dismantling structural racism and other oppressions look like in our work? And what actions can each sector—education, government, nonprofits, and private firms—take in creating and sustaining a more just field?

Learn how to move beyond allyship and become an advocate and partner in preserving Latinx history, places, and communities. A panel of scholars and practitioners will present experiences and strategies drawn from their respective careers in the profession. Attendees will also hear how Latinx/a/os are changing the business of saving places.

This event requires registration. All proceeds will benefit Latinos in Heritage Conservation's paid internship program.

Help support the next generation of Latinx heritage advocates!

Register today at:
https://beyondallyship.eventbrite.com!

Moderator:

Desiree Aranda, Co-Chair of Latinos in Heritage Conservation

Speakers:

Dr. Antonia Castañeda, Board Member of Latinos in Heritage Conservation

Claudia Flores, Principal Planner with the San Francisco Planning Department

Dr. Estevan Rael-Gálvez, Scholar, Writer and CEO/Principal of Creative Strategies 360°

Chris Rupp, Executive Director of Dade Heritage Trust

Trudi Sandmeier, Director of Graduate Programs in Heritage Conservation, University of Southern California

LATINOS IN HERITAGE CONSERVATION